

Confluence and JIRA Universal Header

Description

The "Universal Header" Extension changes the look and feel of the header area for JIRA and Confluence. It displays the global defined application logo on the left side and a banner image along the whole width of the header. The extension provides the possibility to change the colors of the header as well as changing the banner image.

Features

- Use the header with all default confluence Themes
- Exchange the banner with your own image
- Change the colors of the header

Compatibility
